At the 2006 Hui the participants set an agenda for METANZ.

METANZ has already achieved a notable goal, in persuading government to renew the mandate for music in the new Curriculum. But you set us other goals as well. They included:

- Work for the setting up of a National Review of Music Education, along the lines of the one recently completed in Australia.
- Work to inform government and other influential policy-makers of the importance of music education to the development of individuals, of the economy, and of social well-being in New Zealand.
- Continue to build alliances, connections and synergies across all areas and providers that deliver music education.

The 2007 Hui will focus on these tasks. To carry them out we need your help.
